

Sigachi & Aga Khan Rural Support Programme India Launch Integrated Development Program

Sigachi Industries Limited (Sigachi) and Aga Khan Rural Support Programme India (AKRSPI) have come together to Launch Multi- year Integrated Development Program in Bharuch & Narmada District, Gujarat. Integrated Development Program primarily aims at improving nutrition, drinking water & hygiene conditions, sanitation, and access to renewable energy to 1000+ tribal households spread across 5 villages of Bharuch & Narmada District, Gujarat.

Signing the Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) on behalf of Sigachi at the launch event, Mr. Amit Raj Sinha, MD & CEO, Sigachi, was quoted saying – “Launching Integrated Development Program with reputed partner in AKRSPI brings me lot of joy and hope. In such unprecedented times we are living in, I am grateful that Sigachi is being able to contribute to nation building & wellbeing of communities around our units through channels like this. On behalf of my entire team, I would like to congratulate AKRSPI for excellent planning phase. I am confident that we shall achieve program objectives and set these 5 villages as role model villages with help of community”

MoU was signed by Mr. Apoorva Oza, CEO, AKRSPI, on behalf of AKRSPI. A well-known face in development sector, Mr. Apoorva was quoted saying “The tribal regions of Gujarat are among the poorest in the state despite being blessed with natural resources and a united community. We are thankful to Sigachi Industries for their support which will enable us to work for these communities and improve the quality of their lives”
